

----- Forwarded message -----

De: Data Protection <dataprotection@turing.ac.uk>

Date: jue, 5 ago 2021 a las 10:17

Subject: Enquiry made under the Freedom of Information Act

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Thank you for your email dated 22 July 2021

The Alan Turing Institute is not a public authority defined under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 and therefore not obliged to respond to your request. You have identified the Ministry of Defence in your request who are a public authority who you can redirect that specific element to, and they may provide the information required subject to any applicable exemptions.

The other bodies listed in your request are not public authorities under the Act.

Yours sincerely,

Tim Rodgers

Data Protection Manager

The Alan Turing Institute.

The Alan Turing Institute is a limited liability company, registered in England with registered number 09512457 with registered offices at British Library, 96 Euston Road, London, England, NW1 2DB. We are also a charity registered in England with charity number 1162533. DISCLAIMER: Although we have taken reasonable precautions to ensure the completeness and accuracy of this e-mail, transmission cannot be guaranteed to be secure or error-free as information could be intercepted, corrupted, lost, destroyed, arrive late or be incomplete. If you receive a suspicious or unexpected email from us, or purporting to have been sent on our behalf, particularly containing different bank details, please do not reply to the email, click on any links, open any attachments, or comply with any instructions contained within it. Our Transparency Notice found here - <https://www.turing.ac.uk/transparency-notice> sets out how and why we collect, store, use and share your personal data and it explains your rights and how to raise concerns with us.